Hi everybody! My name is Nina, and I'm the President of Mu Mu Pi, the coolest sorority at Rancho Grande State University! Let me introduce you to my sorority sisters...

This is Lucia. She's the captain of the University swim team! She's a very gifted athlete, and incredibly adventurous.

This is Megan. She's the smartest person I know. She's always working on some wacky experiment.

This is Alexis. She's the most creative girl in the house. Her beautiful artwork keeps the place looking great.

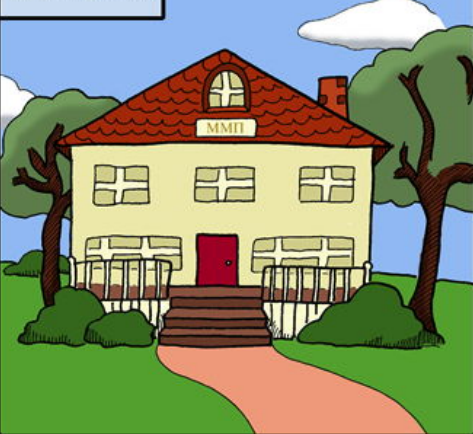

Last but not least, this is Kitty! She's a Marine Biology student, and the life of the party! A friendlier girl you will never meet!

Now, I know what you're wondering; Why is everybody naked? Well, it wasn't always like this...

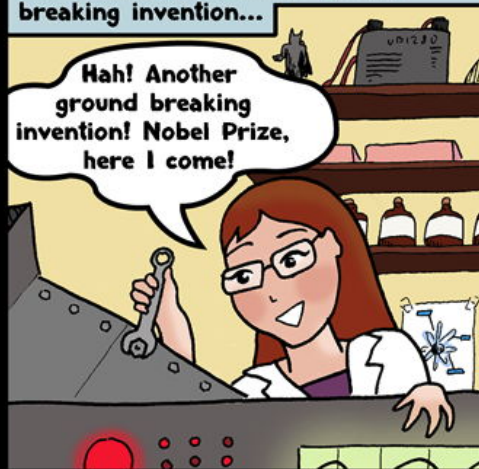

We used to live in a big house on Sorority Row, where we wore clothes all the time.

It all started one day when Megan was working on another ground breaking invention...

Hah! Another ground breaking invention! Nobel Prize, here I come!

Hey Megan! Whatcha up to?

Oh, hey Kitty. Nothing much, I was just about to solve the global energy crisis. Wanna see?

Sure!

Behold! I have perfected a device which can convert any material object into pure energy, cleanly and efficiently.

Neat! How does it work?

You just turn the dial on the front to choose the kind of thing you want to turn into energy, then you put it in the intake here. What do you want to test?

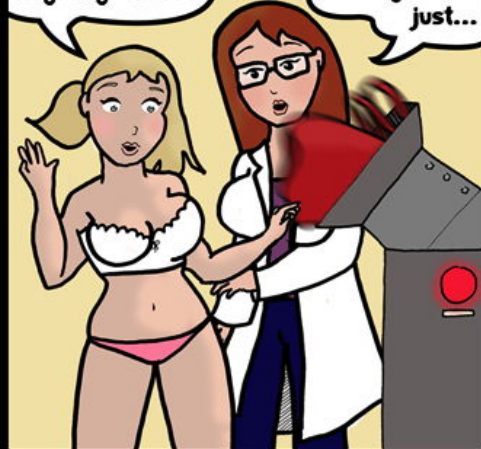

How about my hair tie?

Great! Just set the dial to "clothing" and put it in.

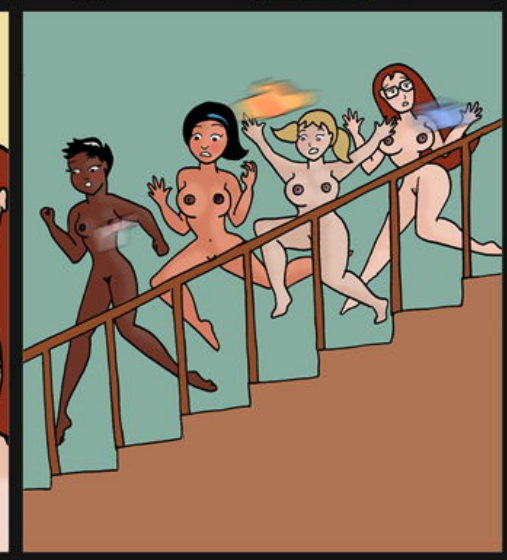

Okay, so I set it to clothing, now... Hey! My dress!

Hmm. Must have the intake power too high. I'll just...

Meanwhile, down the hallway in Alexis's room...

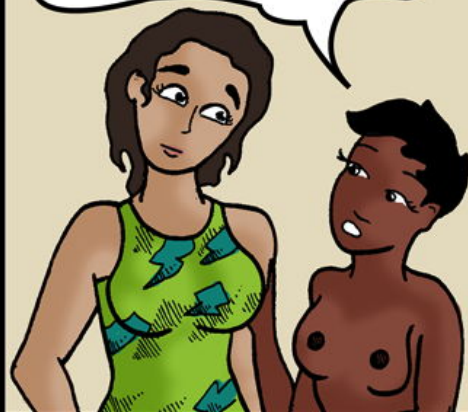

Hey guys, I'm back from the swim meet. You wouldn't believe the...Whoa! why is everyone naked?

Did I miss something fun?

Lucia, we've got to get out of here! There's an out of control clothes eating machine in the house!

What are you talking about? What kind of...Whoa! My clothes!

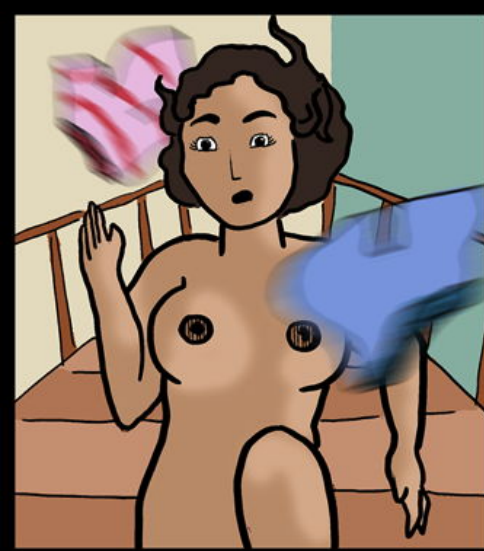

Nothing can stop it now! I mean, not unless someone turns off the machine or something...

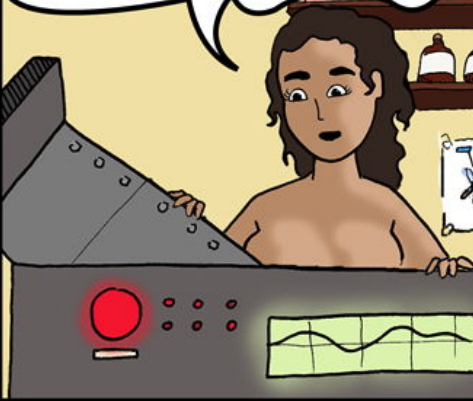

Some kind of crazy machine is doing this? In that case...

I'LL SAVE THE DAY!!!

Alright, if my swim team training is good for anything, I shouldn't have any problem shutting down an incredibly advanced supermachine.

Shortly afterwards...
Hey guys, stopping that evil clothes eating machine was a snap!

Oh, it was easy. I just turned the dial on the front from "clothing" to "house." That put a stop to it.

You did what???

The device is going to turn the house into energy.

We've got to escape!

Some were too small...

So this is what they meant by 1/5 bath? We can't even fit inside!

Well, at least we'll save water!

Some were too confusing...

Well at least we can tan on the upstairs deck!

I think that's the basement...

And some were too haunted...

Well, at least we...uh...

RUN AWAY!!!

Things looked grim. The girls nearly lost their hope and cheerful spirit.

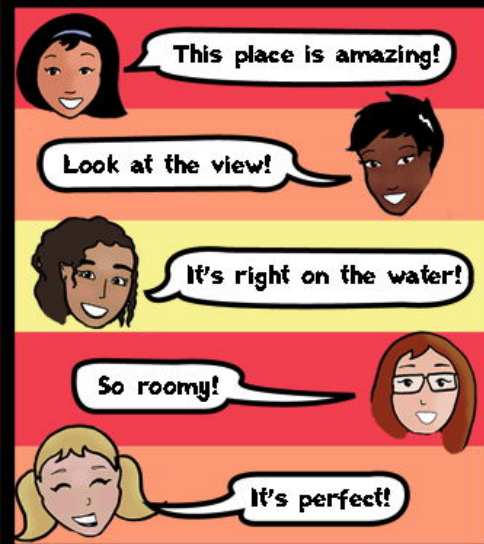

Until...

Wait!

This place is perfect for us!

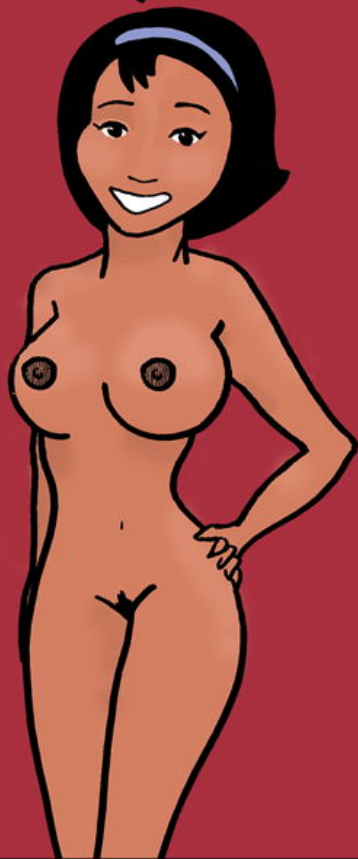

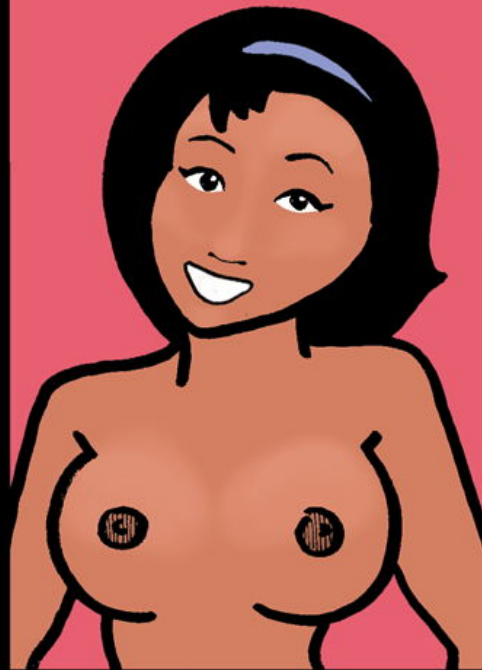

PARTY DOWN!

And that's the story of how we ended up living on a nude beach. So remember the moral of the story...

Your sorority house will probably be destroyed by some science-fiction machine, so keep your Fabergé eggs in a safe deposit box. In the meantime, don't bother wearing clothes. They'll just get ripped off when your roommate's super-science inevitably goes wrong.
